HINTS SECTION

This book is not intended to be an instruction book on how to use your machine or how to chart your garments. There are a lot of excellent books on the market for that. It is assumed that everyone has a basic knowledge of their knitting machine and how to set it up for pattern work. Therefore, there are a minimum of instructions on machine set up. When they are given, it is for the KH930/Comp3 only. All sweaters were knitted on the KH930.

Some of the Hints in this book are a repetition of the Hints in the Indian book. Because my ideas are still the same, there was no need to change the wording. But do read on beyond this first page as there are extra Hints and Tips added throughout the Hints Section. Some Hints that were in the other book were deleted as they didn't apply to this book.

One of the best books on the market today for charting on your Charting Device is by Mary Louise Norman of Denver, Colorado called "Nicely Knit Lines". We are very fortunate to have someone so capable of putting into words her ideas on charting for the charting devices.

Another excellent book for ladies that like to chart their garments mathematically is "Chartrite" by Norma Sweet of Tacoma, Wash. You can buy these books at your local Dealer or write directly to them. You will enjoy the wide variety of information in them. Contact them at the below addresses.

I am sure there are many other excellent books on the market today for charting both with the charting device and mathematically, but I am not familiar with them.

WARNING: If you are using the floppy disk, please try to keep them away from all magnets you may have around your knitting machine. Magnets can completely erase a whole disk, tracks only, or destroy just part of a pattern on a track. When you receive your disk in the mail it would be a good idea to program a back-up disk to store in a different area, then if one is damaged you will have one to fall back on. Keep your disks at least a foot, preferably more, away from anything magnetic, such as telephones, TV's, even staplers are magnetized. Hopefully this information will eliminate some of the problems with lost or missing tracks on your disks.

2nd page of Hints Section

A lot of the following tips are well known by experienced knitters, but keep in mind there is never just one way to accomplish a particular task, there are many ways; these are just some that I prefer. The hints are more for the beginning knitter that doesn't have a Dealer or knitting friend nearby to help her. Some of them I came by, by trial and error, others through the help of knitting friends.

Definition of casting on with waste yarn and ravel cord. Weaving brushes down, cast on your required amount of stitches. Knit about an inch, then knit 1 row with ravel cord. Change to your main color yarn and start your sleeve, etc.

Your contrast color numbers will always be listed at the top of the 1st page of each pattern under YARN:.

CONVERSION INFORMATION FOR OUNCES-GRAMS, INCHES-CENTIMETERS: Change ounces to grams: Multiply number of ounces times 28 = grams. Change grams to ounces: Multiply number of grams by .035 = ounces. Change inches to centimeters: Multiply number of inches by 2.50 = centimeters. Change centimeters to inches: Multiply number of centimeters by .4 = inches.

STITCH GAUGE: You may have to take several stitch gauges before you arrive at the correct one. All machines are different and it's rare that you would get the same identical stitch gauge on your machine that I would have on mine. So always take your own stitch gauge before you start a sweater. If it isn't correct, then your sweater is going to end up in a drawer, which would be a waste of your time. It is more important to get your correct stitch gauge than row gauge. If you are getting your correct stitch gauge but not your row gauge, try adjusting the tension on your tension rod. Check under Yarn comparisons (page 21) for the upper tension that was used on my stitch gauges.

Yarn amounts used will be given only for the size sweater that was knitted. It is to be used only as a guide, as you will have to make the adjustments on yarn according to the size that you knit.

When only 1 row counter number is given on the written patterns, then use that number for all sizes.

Punchcard: When you divide your neckline, first record the punchcard pattern row on which you stopped. When you start the 2nd half of your pattern, re-set your row counter and your punchcard to the correct row numbers.

The following 4 tips apply only to the KH930/Comp3.

KH930/Comp3: When you reach your neckline, push your M button to memorize the row on which your neckline was started. When you're ready to start the 2nd half; your carriage will be on the right.

3rd page of Hints Section

Push your M button again to begin on the correct row. Re-set your row counter number to the correct row to begin your 2nd half.

When you are knitting in pattern and hear the buzzer, knit 1 extra row for a complete pattern.

Watch your memo window for color changes. Change colors when the number is flashing.

Always set up your pattern 1 row before the row number given on your written directions. Example: Directions say to start on RC 100. You would then set up your pattern on RC 099. Always set your carriage outside the turn mark when you are programming in a pattern. You can program from either the right or the left side.

When you are on any pattern that has empty rows, take out your yarn as soon as all of the needles go back to B position. Hook your contrast yarn onto the end of your needlebed and knit with your main color yarn only. KH930/Comp3: Your end needles will still come out each row, so push them back each row or your end stitches will fall off. When your pattern needles come out again, insert your contrast color back into feeder #2. By removing your contrast yarn on the empty rows, you will prevent the long floats across your needlebed.

Square armholes were used on all of these sweaters. My feeling is that the drop shoulder puts too much bulk on a small child. If you would like to knit the drop shoulder, then by all means, knit the way you enjoy most. If you change to a drop shoulder, then check your pattern to see how many stitches you would have decreased at your underarm. If the pattern calls for 8 stitches to be decreased at the underarm, then you would have to subtract about an inch off the length of your sleeve, as the more your sweater hangs over the shoulder, the longer your sleeve will become.

The smaller sizes of square armhole sweaters have about an inch of stitches cast off at the underarm. As there becomes more of a difference between shoulder measurement and chest measurement (plus ease), there will be more decreases at the underarm. If you do not want such a deep cut as on some of them, then cast off less, but again you will have to make up the difference in the length of the sleeve. Without the underarm decreases your sleeve will hang over your shoulder more, hence it will be too long.

SIZING: In our very large family, there are many children of all ages and sizes. My decision was not to go with any published measurements for children as they are all different and I couldn't find too many that matched our children's sizes with the ease that I wanted. So all of these children were measured and measurements were recorded for each one. Measurements of children that were approximately the same ages were compared and an average taken.

4th page of Hints Section

This is how the measurement chart was written.

Armseye measurement for armhole depth: What I believe was most important was the armseye measurement. Slide measuring tape under the underarm and come up over the shoulder. Don't make it too snug. If it measures 14", then half it for a 7" drop on both front and back armholes.

Arm width: Measure your arm at the widest point which is at the underarm. When you add your ease which will be between 4" to 6" you should have the same measurement as the front and back armhole depths added together. Armhole depths front and back: 7" = armhole width: 14".

Arm length: Let them stand with their arm hanging normally, not stiffened. Measure from the bone in the shoulder straight down to the bone in their wrist. As children grow so fast, you can always add extra length in the ribbing. Have then turn it back for the 1st year. As they grow taller, then no more folding. On many of these sweaters, it will say 30 rows of ribbing. On smaller sizes, approximately 40 rows was knitted so they could wear the sweater for several seasons.

Chest measurement: Measure all the way around starting at the underarm. Ease on these sweaters has been anywhere from 4" to 6".

Shoulder measurement: Measure from shoulder to shoulder for a child. Do not deduct anything from this measurement as they grow so fast.

Neck measurement: Start at the top of the neck and with your eye, follow down toward the base of the neck where the neck starts becoming wider. At that point, use your ruler to measure your width. If your child measures 5", add 1" or more to that width when you knit your neckband.

Neckline depth: Back neckline, all sizes: 3/4". Front neckline: For the smallest, which is a size 2, use 2.50". For sizes 4 and up, use 3" in depth.

Sweater length: Start at the bone at the back of the neck and measure down the back, following the curve of the back. Length was arrived at by the children's preference, not mine. They stood in front of a full length mirror and pointed to the area they wanted the sweater length to be. On some of the sweaters, special requests were made for oversize and longer sweaters so a few were knit this way. This will be noted at that special pattern. No matter how young they are, they have very definite ideas on what they like.

Charting Device: If you want to knit on the charting device, draw your pattern after your measurements are taken. The difference between the shoulder measurement and the chest measurement, plus ease, is the amount you will cast off at the underarm. When using your charting device, take a "dry run". Do this before you start your ribbing. Set your RC at 000 and set the row gauge on your charting device. Run your carriage back and forth until you come to your neckline, then record the number of rows. Compare the row amount with the row amount on the written directions of the pattern that you will be knitting. Make adjustments on pattern placement before beginning your pattern. To me, the charting device is the only way to knit. I have used it faithfully for many years. You will receive a more accurate fit using your charting device than any written pattern will give you.

It has now been 29 years since I started knitting on the machine and I still love every minute of it. My 1st 10 years were spent on the Passap, which I dearly loved, but I didn't know how to chart. So my 6 sons and husband (Hal) wore drop shoulder Norwegian design sweaters and fisherman's rib sweaters for 10 years as that was all I knew how to make. When the charting devices came onto the market, Passap didn't have one at the time, so I changed to the Studio machine because of the charting device which is half scale. After several years, I changed to the Brother knitting machine because it had the full scale charting device which made it easier for me to see the stitches on the rulers. A charting device is one of the best investments you will ever make, very easy to learn and well worth the money.

SQUARE ARMHOLE: The following information is for the ladies that want to pick up their stitches from the armhole and knit from the top down. If you decide to knit your sleeve this way, on KH930/ Comp3 machines, push your #5 (upside down) button. Even the fleck will look different if you don't use your upside down button; the "V" of the knit stitch would be upside down.

If you are knitting from the written pattern in the Nursery Rhyme book, pick up the amount of stitches called for. If you are knitting a different size, then use the information in the following paragraph.

When you pick up your stitches from the sweater armhole to knit from the top down, don't pick up every single loop without also picking up some knots. If you only pick up every loop, it causes the top of your sleeve to draw in too much. If you pick up too many stitches and knots out of the armhole, it causes a ballooning effect. Pick up every loop on the outside edge anywhere from 3 to 6 times before picking up a knot. After the knot is picked up, sometimes it is hard to see the next loop, but it is there so don't skip it. After all stitches are picked up, leave the stitches in the hooks of the needles, then pull all needles to holding position. Start with the tail of yarn on your left and with your main color yarn, latch tool on behind the needles going from left to right. This will hide any unsightly holes that may develop. If you are knitting in 2-color knitting, it will also hide different color stitches that have been picked up and will give it a more even look.

The wonderful part about knitting a sweater ahead of time is that if you don't like something, you can always change it in the written pattern or design. My friend, June, thought Mary's hair on "Mary Had A Little Lamb" looked liked lamb's ear's. By then, it was too late to change as the sweater had already been knitted, but she was right. So I changed the hair on the 2nd version. On the Pattern number listed in the written pattern, I gave the number for the 2nd version. You have the option of using either one. After Humpty Dumpty was knitted, I didn't care for the hat, so on the pattern design, it was changed a little, too.

SWEATER CHANGES: Sometimes extra rows were added to the length of a sweater to make a design more balanced, and a few times rows were deleted for the same reason. Also, extra rows were sometimes needed because the design was extra long. A little more or a little less isn't going to make that much difference in a child's sweater. If the extra length is in a sleeve, just roll back the cuff until they grow into it. If the extra length is in the sweater body, blouse it up a little. If the sweater or sleeve was made a little shorter, then block it a little longer, which is very easy to do on an acrylic.

TO LENGTHEN A SWEATER OR A SLEEVE: If you want to lengthen a sweater or a sleeve, study the design awhile first before you decide on which pattern you will make your change. On the sweater, make your changes before your underarm decreases. You may want to knit the border twice for the extra length. Or you may just knit extra rows on the ribbing. If you are knitting a pattern with a fleck in it, you may want to knit extra rows of the fleck. Regardless of which one you choose to do, wait until you have knitted the number of rows for your written pattern, then turn your row counter off. Knit your extra rows, then record the amount. When you have finished knitting your extra rows, then turn your row counter back on again. This way you will still be able to follow all of your Row Counter changes at the correct row.

If you lengthen your panel at the fleck, always stop on a pattern row, not an empty row. This is because your following 2 rows are always going to be 2 rows of your main color before you begin your next pattern.

To make a longer sleeve, study the photograph to get an idea on pattern placement. For just a little extra length, you may only need extra rows in the ribbing. If your main pattern is centered in the middle, such as "Old Woman Who Lived In A Shoe", then add the extra rows of the small design to both the top and bottom of the sleeve to keep it balanced.

The measurement chart is to be used as a starting point. It's always wise to measure your child first, then compare their measurements (with ease added), to the measurements on the chart. The chart is the finished, not actual measurement.

DISK DRIVE: When you are programming a track into your machine from your disk drive, everything that is in your machines's memory that you have input yourself will be erased (555 patterns are in permanently and cannot be erased). If you want to save any designs that are in your machines memory, save them to a floppy disk before programming in another track.

Sometimes you will have more than 1 track for a pattern. You don't have to clear out the old track when you are ready to program in another track. When you program a new track into your machine it automatically erases everything that is in your machine's memory (555 patterns cannot be erased, they are permanent). When you are working on a pattern and program in your next track, your old track will be erased, but your needles for the last row are already in D or pattern position, so that will always be your last knitted row of the track you had been working on.

MIRROR IMAGE: When you are knitting mirror image, push Selector #2 with 2 repeats and push #2 mirror image. Your machine will automatically set your first needle position. If you are designing an animal, have the face facing toward the right. Then when you press mirror image you will have 2 heads facing each other, not 2 tails. However many blank stitches you have to the right of the head, that amount will double on mirror image.

SINGLE MOTIF: When you are knitting single motif on the KH930-Comp3, your contrast needles will come forward to D position when in pattern. Always wrap the first needle in B position that is adjacent to the Needle in D position, but on the carriage side only. Sometimes the B position needle will be the main color, other times it will be the contrast color. When you wrap this needle, try to use the same color wrapping yarn as the needle in B position on your needlebed. A different color will show through to the other side the majority of times.

If you are using a heavier ply yarn for your single motif sweaters, split it into single strands when you are wrapping the stitch on the back. It makes less bulk in the sweater.

Sometimes when knitting single motif, your carriage will jam. A majority of the time it will be caused by the contrast yarn getting caught on something underneath your carriage. To eliminate this, use your finger to hold down on the contrast yarn as it comes out of the feeder. Hold it down until your carriage just passes the spot where you will have your needles in D or pattern position, then let go. It eliminates a lot of jamming. Also knitting slow and steady will help; knitting too fast can cause problems.

UNSHRINKING WOOL SWEATERS: The following is something that I came across in a magazine that had a question and answer Section. Someone had asked for a formula for Unshrinking sweaters made out of wool. The reply mentioned that they had found this in an old copy of Yankee magazine from Earl Proulx's Tip Column. Hope it works. They mentioned that no one had ever written to complain that it didn't work. "Make a solution of one part white vinegar to two parts water. Boil the sweater in this gently for a half hour. Remove and reshape to original size. Dry flat".

Sometimes you have a yarn that won't knit properly on a lower stitch size. Using Lori-Lynn yarn spray on your yarn usually corrects the problem. Put your yarn into a plastic bag before you spray it to eliminate fumes coming into your room.

No matter how clean you keep your machine, if you use hold position to shape your neckline or shoulder stitches, you sometimes will get either a black line across the front of your sweater or some furring of the yarn on the purl side. When you are using a lighter color that shows these marks, use a ravel cord to knit your stitches back out of work to take care of the black line. It takes a little longer but it is worth it.

When you are short rowing your neckline, whether you choose to use hold position or knit it back out of work with ravel cord, don't knit more than 2 rows before pulling a stitch into non-working position, regardless of which method you use. If you knit more than 2 rows without putting at least 1 stitch into out of work position, it will cause a puckering at the neckline. Once you have knitted more than 2 rows without putting a stitch into non-working position, start using a permanent cast off.

When your carrige is on the side of your needles in hold position and your charting device or written pattern shows more than 1 stitch to be short rowed, pull out the required amount of stitches. Weave your yarn under and over the needles in hold position, finishing with the yarn coming over the top of the first needle in holding position. Knit 1 row over all stitches when finished to get rid of the double stitches, then remove on waste yarn.

NECKLINE FINISHING: Close one shoulder. With the purl side facing you, pick up every loop from the outside edge, pick up several knots, plus neckline stitches that you have on waste yarn. Work from right to left. When you reach your 1st stitch on the waste yarn (main color, right side) put this stitch onto the last main color stitch picked up. When you have finished hanging your last stitch from the waste yarn, the very next main color stitch that you pick up, put it onto the last stitch hung from the waste yarn. This helps eliminate the holes we sometimes see on neckbands.
Leave the stitches in the hooks of the needle and pull all needles to hold position. With the tail of the yarn on the left, latch tool on behind the stitches going from left to right. When finished, push your stitches in the hooks up against the latched on stitches.

No matter what stitch size you use on the 1st row of your band, go 2 full numbers higher on the 1st row only, then set your tension back to the correct stitch size. The higher stitch size on the 1st row makes it easier to pick up stitches above your ravel cord when you close your neckband. After you knit your first row, use a contrast color ravel cord and weave in and out between the needles by pulling the needles out slightly as you are weaving.

You are now ready to knit the 1st row of your band. Whatever your stitch size is on the body of the sweater, start with that stitch size on the band. Example: 24 row band. Every 3 rows tension down 1 notch. Start with Stitch size 6: Knit 1 row s.s. 8, weave in your ravel cord, knit 2 rows s.s. 6, 3 rows s.s. 5.2. 3 rows s.s. 5.1, 6 rows s.s. 5, 3 rows s.s. 5.1, 3 rows s.s. 5.2, 3 rows s.s. 6.

When you close your neck-band, pick up each purl stitch above the colored ravel cord, plus each purl stitch between the 2 colored purl stitches of ravel cord. Pull all needles out until the stitches just clear the latches, then latch tool off around the sinker posts.

For a more elastic neckband, latch tool off around 2 sinker posts at a time.

When you have finished knitting your front and back sweater panels, you will knit 1 row over all neckline stitches to get rid of the double stitches. If your neckband is going to be the same color as the yoke, then use your main color to knit the 1 row. If you are going to use a contrast color neckband, then on that final row, knit it in the contrast color. It looks much neater when you finish your neckband.

DECREASING ON NECKLINE EDGE: (-1-2-3) Means to decrease 1 stitch every 2 rows 3 times.

As you finish each panel, roll it into a tube lengthwise and give a few tugs to set your stitches into place. Give a few pulls from corner to corner. Let the panels rest for awhile before blocking.

BLOCKING: Most people will be happier with their finished results using a Jiffy steamer than they will be when using an iron. For years, my struggles with an iron produced very poor results on my blocking. For many years now, the Jiffy Steamer has been one of my most valuable accessories and it did solve my blocking problems.

If you use too much pressure when you are blocking an acrylic, you will block the body out of it, plus you may block it too large. Once you do, it will be impossible to get it back to the correct measurements. The opposite is true of wool. You can use a lot of pressure on a wool and you will not damage it or block it out of shape.

10th page of Hints Section

Tube your garment, let it rest for awhile, then you are ready to start blocking. Do not pin your panel when you are blocking, and do not pin it when you are finished. On an acrylic, you may put the wand of your steamer directly onto your panel, but with very little pressure, just enough to block to the measurements that you need. Block in all directions, up, down, and across in both directions. Because you can't put too much pressure on an acrylic, let your panel get hot and steamy, then use your fingers to pat into place. As you are blocking, keep checking with your measuring tape to block to the correct measurements. Leave it alone until completely dry. Sew your garment together, then give it one more light blocking, mainly touching up. Never steam ribbing.

ABBREVIATIONS: Very few abbreviations have been used as they sometimes tend to confuse the new knitter. Ones that were used, are: Row Counter: RC Stitch size: S.S. Contrast color: C.C.

GARTER CARRIAGE: As I do not use a ribber, the Garter carriage has become a life-saver to me. All sweater ribbing was knitted on the Garter carriage.

When you pull the pin out of your garter carriage, put a pencil eraser on the end. If the pin hits anything metal, you may blow a fuse on the little control box that sits on the back of your knitting machine. The Control box is part of your Garter Carriage.

When you re-insert the pin into the Garter Carriage, do not force it. If it doesn't go in easy, pull it out to re-position it, try again, but don't force it. If you force the pin into the Garter Carriage, it sometimes causes the receiving pin to fall down into the Garter Carriage, hence you will have a large repair bill.

The majority of times I knit my ribbing in contrast yarn on the Garter Carriage. You don't have to keep switching your contrast yarn back and forth from the right to the left side to use the G carriage. Just thread your yarn in the normal way through the left side of your yarn tension rod to rib on Garter carriage and save the right side for the main color yarn. As long as your G carriage lever is in the down position on the right side, your G carriage will work. The only drawback is if you run out of yarn, your lever isn't going to know it and your ribbing will fall on the floor. Just make sure you have enough yarn on your cone so this doesn't happen. Also, the right side lever can't detect knots if there isn't any yarn going through it.

SHOULDER FINISHING: Shoulder stitches or cuffs. When you put a garment piece back onto your machine, have the right side facing you. When you hang your stitches, leave them in the hooks of the needles, then remove the waste yarn. Have the wrong side facing you when you hang your second shoulder (right sides together) As you are hanging the 2nd stitch, pull the needle out slightly so the 1st stitch will slip behind the latch; keep your 2nd stitch in the hook of your needle. When you have finished hanging your stitches, use your ruler and push the needles back so the stitch in the hook of the needle will slip through the 1st stitch that is now behind the latch. Then pull all needles out until the stitches just clear the latches, then latch tool off around the sinker posts.

As you start each strand of contrast color, knit one row in fairaisle, then weave the yarn tail in and out, over and under the needles in D position (if you have a machine where the needles come out to D position). Weave it over the needles of the same color as sometimes the wrong color will show on the knit side. Hang a small clip on the tail of the yarn to keep the carriage from jamming when it passes over it, or hold the tail of the yarn down with your fingers, but don't pull on it. Knit 1 row, then clip the yarn. If the stitches in D position are the wrong color, then every 2 rows, "e" wrap the yarn over your end needle. Saves time by not having to sew in your ends later. Too much "e" wrapping on the end needles will distort the side seams when you sew your garment together, so use this method only when you don't have the correct color for weaving your yarn under and over the needles.

FLOATS: The following are several suggestions on dealing with floats. There are other ways but these are some of the ways that I prefer.

#1. The 1st way is to be finished after your panel is off your machine. Use your latch tool and latch the threads up the back of your design. To start, insert your latch tool under the 1st 2 threads. Let 1 thread slip behind the latch, keep the 2nd in the hook of the needle. Pull the thread in the hook through the thread behind the latch. You now have 1 thread in your hook. Pick up the next thread and repeat until you have reached the top of your design. Take a strand of yarn and catch the last loop and secure. This will draw your design in a little so do your blocking after you have finished securing the floats.

#2. As you are knitting, use your latch tool and latch tool the long floats (every 3-4 rows) using your latch tool the same way as the above method. Use care to hang the stitch on the same color yarn as sometimes a wrong color will show through to the other side.

#3. Start a separate strand of yarn for every 6-8 stitches. Pull your needle out just far enough to "e" wrap on, then push it back to working position. Keep your wrapping yarn the same color as the needle that you are wrapping. A different color will show through the majority of the time. Hang only a very light weight clip onto the yarn ends. Too much weight will cause a line on the right side which can be very hard or impossible to block out. You only need to wrap your needle every 2 rows. By timing some of the sweaters that had a lot of wrapping, extra time needed to knit the sweater was minimal.

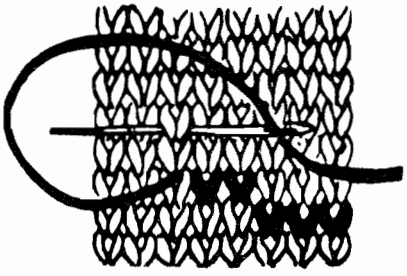
DUPLICATE STITCHING: Don't pull your yarn too tight when you are doing the duplicate stitch. You have better results when you keep your yarn loose enough to lie on top of the stitch.



This book would probably not be in print if is weren't for the many requests of my grand-children, nieces and nephews over the past several years for a book on children's knits.

My niece Marnie (now 9) was one of the many to request a children's book. About a year ago during one of our modeling sessions at the Photographers, Marnie came up to her Mom and said, "Mom, do you think it would be possible for Aunty Phyllis to write a children's book so we could all model? She was so serious.

My little grandson, Brandon, is now 4. One day (under prompting from his Dad, I am sure) he told me over the phone that he wanted to be in the book and be famous all over the world.

This book is dedicated to all of these wonderful children that worked so hard at talking Gramma and Aunty Phyllis into writing this book. Grandchildren, Jennifer, Julie, Johnny, Cindy, Mandy and Brandon. Nieces Christy, Marnie, Megan, and Leslie. Nephews, Mark, Gerard, and Rudy.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Our son, Dan came to work for us in September of 1990. After his job as Youth Pastor ended with the Church, his decision was to help out Mom and Dad for a few years before he went on with his dream of working with children again. Mom was having a difficult time keeping up with bookkeeping from 2 businesses, trying to write new books, filling all book orders, plus all of the hours spent designing and knitting. I needed to be 3 people rolled into one and it was beginning to be nerve wracking. He picked up on this so now I have a helper. Dan now does many jobs, Accountant, Bookkeeper, Fruit Broker for my Husband's business, fills all orders. He will even answer all telephone calls which I never seemed to have time to do. He is doing a beautiful job, hope he is here forever. Thank You so much, Dan, for all of your help, and most of all for that ever smiling face. Without your support, this book would be about 3 months later being finished.

Without my husband Hal's continued support I wouldn't be able to accomplish half of what I do. He always hangs in there with me.

Big hugs and kisses to the models who are my very special grandchildren, Jennifer, Julie, Mandy, Brandon and Cindy, my very special nieces and nephew, Megan, Marnie and Gerard. You have made this book special for me with your little faces in it.

A very special thanks to the following knitters who have come through for me time and time again. Resi Raber, June Fitzpatrick, Heidi Abbott and Judy Ragsdale.

The cute little frog was drawn by Mary Louise Norman about 10 years ago. She very graciously consented to letting me design a pattern around her little frog. Thank You so much, Mary Louise.

The lamb in "Mary Had A Little Lamb" was drawn by Debbie McKirahan, 4410 Delta Queen, Godfrey, Ill. 62035. It was from her book, "Designs by Debbie". All of the patterns from this book are just darling. For a copy of her beautiful book, you may write to her at the above address for pricing information. Thank You for allowing me to use your lamb, Debbie.

About 18 years ago I met a very nice young lady by the name of 2Paula. Paula Franklin wasn't very happy with the designs in books at that time, so after some discussion, I hired her to do some drawings for me. Nursery Rhymes was one of the sets. At that time, they were sold under the name, "Phyllis's Ski Wear". Sound familiar? Now, 18 years later I am using some of these drawings again. They may look different to you as some I changed around a little, then added my own ideas to them. Thank You again, Paula, for the drawings of Hickory Dickory Dock, Jack from Jack Jumped Over The Candlestick, the Shoe drawing from Old Woman Who Lived In A Shoe, 3 Blind Mice, Little Bo Peep, Mother Goose, Humpty Dumpty, Little Miss Muffet. Paula, you are still as talented as ever.

STITCH GAUGE

The stitch gauge has to be the most important task to undertake before beginning a garment. Without a correct stitch and row gauge, there isn't any way your garment is going to fit correctly. With all of the countless hours that you spend on a garment, your time will be wasted if it doesn't fit properly. The time spent on knitting your stitch gauge is well worth it.

If you are using acrylics, cottons, or the superwash wools, treat the swatch as you would your finished garment. If you are going to wash it in the washing machine, then do the same for your swatch. If you are going to dry it in your dryer, then also dry your swatch but with a load of clothes, as you normally would not dry just 1 sweater alone. Block your swatch the same as you will be blocking your finished garment.

Cast on 40 stitches each side of 0 with your weaving brushes down.

Knit approximately 3 inches, always in the pattern that you will be knitting.

Knit 2 rows of contrast color yarn.

Put a marker thread on the 21st stitch on each side of 0.

Set Row Counter on 000

Knit 60 rows.

Knit 2 rows of contrast color yarn.

Knit approximately 3 inches in pattern.

Scrap off machine.

Roll your stitch gauge into a tube (vertical) and pull a couple of times to set the stitches. Pull it several times from corner to corner. Let it rest for awhile before blocking.

Thread your contrast color yarn into a needle and following your 21st stitch, sew a contrast color between the top and bottom contrast color yarns.

Block, then let it dry overnight for a more accurate gauge.

Studio Dealers and Distributors have a green ruler that is used with their charting device. This same ruler is great for giving you your stitch gauge on stitches and rows. The measurement you read will be for 4", not 1". You will have a more accurate stitch and row gauge taking it over 4" instead of 1".

When you take your readings, take it in 3 to 4 different places between your contrasting yarns. You will probably have different readings each time; then take the average of the readings.

2nd page of Stitch Gauge

If you will be using your charting device, then measure your stitch gauge with the ruler that comes with your charting device.

You will use the S (for stitches) side of your ruler and measure the stitches between your 21st needles on each side of 0. If your ruler says 30, that means your gauge is 30 stitches equals 4". Divide by 4 and that will give you 7.50 stitches per inch.

When you measure your rows, have the R (for rows) side facing to the left, then measure between the two contrasting yarns. If your reading says 48, then that means 48 rows equals 4". Divide by 4 and that will give you 12 rows per inch.

YARN COMPARISONS

The following yarns knit to approximately the same gauge as the yarns used in this book. Distributor's ads and telephone numbers are listed in "The Machine Knitters Source".

As I am not familiar with various yarns, the Yarn Distributor's were very helpful in giving me yarn comparisons. The yarns sound beautiful.

Mary had a little lamb,
It's fleece was white as snow,
And everywhere that Mary went,
The lamb was sure to go.

It followed her to school one day,
That was against the rule.
It made the children laugh and play
To see a lamb at school.

And so the teacher turned it out,
But still it lingered near
And waited patiently about,
Till Mary did appear.

Why does the lamb love Mary so?
The eager children cry.
Why, Mary loves the lamb, you know,
The teacher did reply.

When you are knitting the clock and the mouse you will have to wrap on each side of the mouse and each side of the clock the same as you would on just 1 single motif. JACK JUMPED OVER THE CANDLESTICK

Ribbing: Stitch size 3.2 or 4 on Garter Carriage
Body and sleeves: Stitch size 6

SIZES: 6-8-10 Size 6 was made a little longer because of the length of the design.

YARN: Trenzado:
Main color: #36J - (jaspepaja) pale yellow - 7 ozs.
2nd Main color: #7 - (mostaza) gold - 1 oz.
1st contrast color: #15 - (negro) black - 1 oz.

KH93/Comp3: Pattern #901 - Selector #2 with 5 repeats
Pattern #902 - Selector #1

Punchcard: Pattern #901 - 5 single motifs
Pattern #902 - all over pattern

Check Hints Section on finishing techniques, blocking and floats.

When you are knitting Jack, wrap on each side of each motif. Sometimes you will have a separation of yarns where there are long floats.

All ribbing is in pale yellow.

Color changes will be given in the written pattern but it is a good idea for KH930/Comp3 to still watch your memo window and change contrast colors when number is flashing. Punchcard machines, mark your punchcards at the color changes. The row numbers are given in the memo column on the far left of the pattern design. Row counter numbers will be given when you change your yarn in feeder #1. All machines: When you come to your empty rows, take out your contrast color and knit with main color only to prevent your long floats. KH930/Comp3: Your end needles will still come out each time on your empty rows, so each row push them back or your end stitches will fall off.

When only 1 row counter number is given, then use that number for all sizes.

Program in Track #4

Neckband: When you knit your neckband, start at Stitch size 6. Every 3 rows, tension down 1 dot or notch. At the halfway point, start increasing 1 dot every 3 rows until you are back at your beginning stitch size. After you have knitted the 1st row, put in 1 row of ravel cord.

When you start knitting the goose, use an extra strand of yarn to wrap on each side of each goose to prevent a separation of yarns. If only 1 row counter number is given, then that number is to be used for all sizes.
